“Jewel and the Missing Key to the Vault of Souls” Fantasy, Magical Fiction a Hit with Young Adults

Did You Know the Fae Kingdom Coexists with the Human Realm on Earth?

There are two identical Earths. The fae live in one; humans the other. Within each realm are portals of passage to be traversed only on magical occasions. In the fae kingdom, souls of fairies who die reside in the Vault of Souls under the castle. The vessels of the royals also hold the powers they are blessed with on the day they receive their wings—the 16th birthday. If a vessel is opened prior to a death, the magic of the power is stolen and absorbed by the thief.

Two days before Jewel’s 16th birthday, the sacred key on its golden chain is stolen from the king’s neck. Jewel’s birthday celebration is thrown into chaos. After getting her wings and her special power (communication with trees), Jewel attends a party to open gifts. The gift from her uncle is a pair of Pulchra avum, bird-like creatures known to be fierce warriors, named Miranda and Beecher. These intelligent creatures are Jewel’s constant companions; they hide in her clothes to protect her.

After the party, Jewel meets her best friend Ember in their secret hiding place in an ancient oak tree. Unbeknownst to either girl, it is a portal and Jewel, Beecher and Miranda disappear into the world of humans. Everything looks the same, yet different. The human world’s tree whispers to her, gives her the ability to speak the human language and tells her that the key thief is also in the human world. She also learns that only she can pass through this tree because of her special powers.

Jewel meets Samantha, who takes her in and brings her to school where Ethan becomes her first love. Jewel feels responsible for finding the key, so this fact, and love for Ethan keep her from returning to her worried family and Ember. After a series of unusual events that include kidnapping, outrageous driving, danger to Beecher and Miranda, and, a father who beats his son, Jewel arrives back at the portal.

Will the portal be closed forever or will Jewel go back to save Ethan? Find out in Jewel and the Missing Key to the Vault of Souls, published by new72media.

About Sharon Loeff

Sharon Loeff is a businesswoman, author and artist who also enjoys hiking the wilderness in search of nature's beauty. In 1980, she formed the first of several companies, Pushcarts, Inc. in Boston. The launch of that company started a career in retail design and consulting that has taken her around the world. As a consultant she launched companies like Tupperware and Avon into mainstream retail venues. Sharon Loeff Designs, her jewelry company, started in 2007 in Las Vegas. After a thirty-year hiatus, Sharon returned in 2009 to her early passions for art and writing when she began writing a novel and entered paintings in a juried art show in Peoria, Arizona. The mother of two grown daughters, Sharon lives in Scottsdale with husband Tom, several dogs and a roadrunner named Seymour who eats worms out of the palm of her hand.

new72media is an organization whose goal is to provide a global platform for individuals from all over the world, representing the Greater Collective, to connect, co-create and collaborate and share their message with others, aiding in the expansion of high vibrational thought, intention, acceptance, and healing of the world. This is accomplished via specific branches within new72media including Directory of The Collective, Portal of Awareness, Publishing, Branding, Events and Radio.

The ancient number 72 ( $7+2=9$ ) carries the vibration of light—the kind of light that is able to shine beyond any dark corners of the reality we create, and illuminate a new kind of media. The intention of new72media is to collaborate with a collective composed of individuals who honor the frequencies and vibrations of integrity, respect, honesty and trust.
